(D) Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for in order to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies or because of the 1958, with the number of establishments in each State (and in parentheses the number of employees or employment size range).

SIC 1211. Bituminous Coal: Massachusetts (100-249, central office
 Montana, 19 (55); New

I Mexico, 18 (309); Arizona, 4 (5); California (0-4 central office employees).

SIC 1212, Lignite: North Dakota, 43 (342); South Dakota, 1 (0-5); Texas, 3 (100-249); Montana, 11 (20-49); California, 1 (5-9).

SIC 1213. Bituminous Coal Mining Services: Indiana, 3 (10-19); Illinois, 3 (5-9); Iowa, 3 (10-19); Tennessee, 3 (16); Arkansas, 1 (0-4); Oklahoma, 3 (5-9);

New Mexico, 3 (5-9); Arizona, 1 (0-4); Washington, 2 (0-4).

For all State totals represents net production of coal (the clean-coal equivalent of all coal mined, based on the location of the mine); for all type of operation statistics represents gross shipments of coal.

In addition, net production in other industries amounted to 201 thousand tons for the United States; with 153 thousand tons in Ohio, and 48 thousand tons in Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Includes data for employees at central offices and related facilities in California.

Includes data for separately reported central offices and related facilities. These were not distributed by type of operation.

For 1963, the United States

total includes 3,985 such employees with a payroll of $31,804 thousand.

Includes data for 2 or less lignite operations with less than 10 employees for which data by type of operation could not be segregated from those for bituminous coal operations without disclosing figures for individual companies.

Includes data for production in other industries. The combined tonnage for such production in Pennsylvania and Indiana was 48 thousand tons.

Not shown since the cost of supplies, purchased fuels and electric energy, contract work, and purchased machinery installed exceeds capital expenditures.

Coal mined by the Bituminous Coal Mining Services Industry is included in the production shown for the Bituminous Coal and Lignite Industries.
